

NAMUR CAPTURED---AUSTRIAN EMPEROR SAID TO BE DYING

A great battle was fought Sunday and Monday all along the line. British troops held their own, but the Allied troops were forced to retire yesterday on their defences. Namur has been captured by the Germans. The Russians with a tremendous army are marching on Berlin.

FIRST BIG BATTLE OF WAR STARTED

French and British Troops Have Assumed the Offensive Everywhere, According to Official French Announcement; The Allied Forces are Faced by Nearly the Whole German Army, both Active and Reserve; Battle May Last Several Days.

Paris, Aug. 23, 11 p.m.—The following official announcement was issued tonight:

"A great battle is now in progress along a vast line extending from Mons to the frontier of Luxemburg. Our troops, in conjunction with the British, have assumed everywhere the offensive. We are faced everywhere by the whole German Army, both active and reserve. The ground, especially on our right, is thickly wooded and difficult. The battle is likely to last several days.

"The enormous extent of the front and the great number of forces involved makes it impossible to follow step by step the movements of each of our armies. We must await the result of the first phase of the combat before we can form any conclusion as to the situation. Otherwise we should be giving to the press divergent and contradictory news, since such a battle is naturally made up of actions and re-actions which follow and connect in a continuous manner.

FRENCH TROOPS WITHDRAW FROM DONAN

"In Vosges the general situation determined us to withdraw our troops from Donan and the Saales Pass. These points were no longer of importance, since we occupied the fortified line, beginning at Grand Couronne de Nancy, Lunville is occupied by the Germans and at Namur the Germans are making great efforts against the forts, which resist energetically. The forts at Liege still hold.

Fort Chaudfontaine has been the scene of an act of heroism which affirms once more the brilliant valor of the Belgian Army. The fort, which commands the railroad to Aix-La-Chapelle by Verviers and the tunnel to Chaudfontaine, was subjected to an extremely violent bombardment. When it was reduced to a mere heap of ruins and Major Mameche, the commanding officer, judged that further resistance was impossible, he blocked up the tunnel by running several locomotives into each other and set fire to the fuses leading to the mines surrounding the forts.

"His mission then accomplished, Major Mameche, determined that no German flag should fly even over the ruins of his fort, blew up the powder magazine and perished.

BATTLE BEGAN FRIDAY

London, Aug. 23, 1.12 a.m.—An official despatch to the Reuter's Telegram Company from Antwerp, timed 10.50 o'clock Saturday night, tends to confirm the reports that a great battle began yesterday morning between the French and Germans. The despatch says:

"It is believed that this morning a great battle commenced between the French and German armies between Namur and Charleroi. It is thought that it will last two or three days. Precise details are lacking.

Northern Belgium Now Being Over-run By German Troops

London, Aug. 22.—Very little has yet become known of the operations of the early part of the week which put the German army between the Belgian forces and the French and enabled the Germans to occupy Brussels. It is supposed the Germans must have brought up very strong forces behind their cavalry screens and that a severe battle must have been fought to compel the Belgians to abandon Brussels and retire on Antwerp.

Whether or not the French forces are engaged with the Belgians is not known.

No information is available as to whether the Germans now intend to devote themselves to the task of reducing Antwerp or to an endeavor to force their way southward into France. It seems, however, that the determination is to attack the Belgian army of some 150,000 men, who are still in or about Antwerp. The Germans already are advancing in the direction of Ghent. They have occupied Alost, 15 miles north of Brussels, and Wetteren, 8 miles south-east of Ghent; and apparently intend to overrun the whole of northern Belgium to the sea.

Cavalry patrols have been seen as far as Mechlin (Malines), 14 miles southeast of Antwerp, and it may be expected before long to hear that the Germans have occupied Ghent and Bruges, and possibly even Ostend.

If, however, that is their intention, a clear invasion of France through Belgium must be still longer delayed.

The German general has imposed a war impost of forty million dollars on the city of Brussels.

Red Deer Contingent Depart at Short Notice

ROUSING SEND-OFF BY CITIZENS

The volunteers of "A" Squadron, Red Deer Troop of the 35th Central Alberta Horse, entrained for active service at the front on Friday morning at eleven o'clock, on less than one hour's notice. At the conclusion of the presentations at the fair grounds on Thursday night, the citizens were told that while there was no intimation up to that time as to when the men were likely to go, it was very probable that the departure would not be far away, and they were asked to be prepared to give the men a good send-off. It was little thought that the time would be so short. The telegram to entrain for Quebec was received about 10.15 a.m. on Friday. The troops were out-marching, and messengers were sent out in every direction. They were soon located, and from their point the train left at 11.15 was a time of haste and bustle. The men returned to the armory and were then marched to the train to the beat of a drum and the cheers of the crowd, who were assembling in hundreds. The troops made a picturesque sight as they marched down the main street, some in old uniforms, some in overalls, and others carrying grips, parcels, etc. Mothers, sisters, sweethearts and friends were allowed to mingle freely with their loved ones, while extra cars were being attached to the train to accommodate the men. The band had arrived and were playing patriotic airs, and the crowd, which had swelled to an enormous size, were cheering again and again. Many tear-stained faces were noticed among the womenfolk, and the eyes of some of the troops were full almost to overflowing for among them were many young fellows who, though filled with the spirit of the struggle, were full of what is called, were leaving their homes and parents for the first time in their lives. Others looked with straining eyes for a last glance of loved ones who had not arrived, having had no news of the sudden departure. Some of the citizens had busied themselves in collecting cigars, tobacco, etc., the hotels, drug stores and everyone else appealed to coming through in the most generous manner, so that the men could have a cheering smoke on their journey. Many of the troops gave commissions of different kinds to their charges to take home, even to putting money in the bank for they had no time to attend to anything themselves.

SUMMARY OF WAR NEWS. FRIDAY.

The Germans have at last occupied Brussels, but in Alsace they seem to be making no advance. The latest report is that the French have recaptured Mulhausen and it still seems true that, after 18 days of fighting, there are no German troops on French soil. On Germany's eastern frontier there has been considerable outpost fighting, which would indicate that the Russians are completing their work of concentration. There has, however, been no big collision in this region as yet. Austria is too much engaged with Russia and with the need of helping Germany to make much progress in her campaign against Serbia.

No news whatever has been received of any naval movements either in the North Sea or the Mediterranean. The death of Pope Pius will be made the occasion for another effort to bring about peace. It is stated that when the "conclave" meets in Rome to elect a new pope, it will send an appeal to the warring nations for peace, and will ask the United States to aid it in bringing about tranquility.

COUNTRY STORE TO OPEN.

At the Lyric Theatre, at nine o'clock on Friday night, the Country Store will be held in conjunction with the moving pictures. Ten big prizes to the ten lucky ticket holders. Lots of fun. A regular Hudson's Bay trade post. The Country Store is one of the big features to be seen at the Lyric this coming season. Thursday night, Mary Pickford in "Hearts Adrift."

RUSSIANS ROUT GERMAN FORCES IN EAST PRUSSIA

St. Petersburg, Aug. 23, 11.30 a.m.—Grand Duke Nicholas, commander-in-chief of the Russian army, today issued the following statement:

"Battles in East Prussia on the 17th, 18th, 19th and 20th of August were fought with the utmost desperation. The spirit of the troops is excellent. Our battle front extends for a distance of over 40 versts (about 26 miles).

"The Russian troops occupied Goldap and Arys. The retreat on the 20th of the German army corps near Lyk resembled a rout. The money confiscated in the German treasury amounted to 50,000 marks ($10,000). The enemy's troops are evacuating the frontier in the vicinity of Willenberg. The German population is abandoning the villages and fleeing northward.

"On the Austrian frontier up to August 20th, no serious collision occurred. The Russians forced an Austrian battalion to evacuate Burgade and Ravarasse.

Russians Capture Many Guns.

"On August 20th the Germans near Gumbinnen engaged three army corps and tried to envelop the Russian right wing, where the fighting was intensely fierce. The Russians took the offensive in the centre and captured many guns. The enemy demanded an armistice in order to bury their dead, but this demand was refused. On August 21st, victory crowned the efforts of Russian army. The Germans have suffered enormous losses and are falling back, pursued by the Russians.

After Great Serbian Victory Austrians Flee in Disorder

Nish Gives Out Official Statement Saying Four Regiments were Completely Routed and a Commander-in-Chief Killed

17 AUSTRIAN CRAFT SUNK

NISH, Serbia, Aug. 23.—The following official communication was made public here today:

"After the great Serbian victory the Austrians fled in complete disorder before the Serbian pursuit.

"The 91st, 102nd, 11th and 28th Austrian regiments have been completely routed. The Commander-in-chief of the 21st division of the Austrian infantry was killed, as was also the commander of the 28th regiment.

"Seventeen Austrian craft have been sunk by the Serbian artillery.

"The details of the great battle of Aug. 20 are only now becoming known. The Austrian forces were composed of nine divisions, and numbered nearly 200,000 men. The Serbians were much inferior in numbers, but showed greater heroism. Their handling of their artillery, their superior marching and endurance, their discipline, and the accuracy of their fire, insured them the victory.

"During their flight the enemy committed atrocities in the villages of Brobitch, Bogassavatz and Aerhatz, slaying women and children."

MOBILIZATION IN ITALY HAS BEEN DECIDED UPON

PARIS, AUG. 22.—5.13 a.m.—A general mobilization in Italy has been decided upon and will be proceeded with in three or four days, according to a message which the Rome correspondent of the Eclair succeeded in smuggling through to his paper. The correspondent asserts that King Victor Emmanuel until recently felt obliged to renounce all idea of Italian intervention in the conflict, but was won over by the arguments of his ministers. Minister of foreign affairs, Marquis Antonio Di San Giuliano, alone of the cabinet held to a contrary opinion.

WESTERN CITIES GAIN

Milling Plants Increase—The Development of a Great Western Industry

When the wheat and flour controversy was at its height, interviews were published with several large millers in which it was intimated that they would make no extensions to their milling plants in Western Canada if free wheat and flour were granted by the Canadian Government. These statements aroused some criticism and were not believed in many quarters. While it is impossible to state what would have happened under free wheat and flour, it has become abundantly evident that the millers are only too willing to expand as rapidly as their capital will permit, now that the free wheat and flour question has been disposed of to their satisfaction.

Numerous Large Mills

In addition to the Ogilvie mill which was completed in Medicine Hat last year, the Maple Leaf Milling Company have purchased a site and commenced operations on a large mill in the same city. Large mills are also going up in Calgary and in several other Western cities and towns. The Lake of the Woods Company has recently acquired the Medicine Hat Milling Company's plant at Medicine Hat, and Mr. Hutchison, the managing director, states that plans are being rapidly prepared in Winnipeg for the new mill which will probably be increased from 500 to 1,500 barrel capacity.

The development of the milling industry in Western Canada is one of the best assets for the mixed farming industry, as it will ensure a plentiful supply of mill feeds, which are essential to successful mixed farming. In addition it provides steady work at good wages for a large number of workmen, and coming at a time when the unemployment problem is staring nearly every Western community in the face, the advent of a number of new channels of employment will be very welcome.

Benefits For the West

While no one can state positively what advantage or disadvantage would have accrued to the country under free wheat and flour, it seems fairly safe to predict that under a stable policy of encouragement for some industries the West will gradually reap the full benefits which come from manufacturing development.

Colonel Melgren, President of the Lake of the Woods Milling Company, in an interview spoke as follows:

"Now that the free wheat question is settled," declared the Colonel, "the Lake of the Woods Milling Company is preparing to invest large sums of money in furthering the plans in Western Canada, to buy more wheat from the western farmers, and to grind it into flour on Canadian soil. This Company has always believed in the Canadian West, as is shown by the fact that it is the only large flour company which has all its mills west of the Great Lakes, but, I say emphatically, that if the company thought that free wheat was to be the policy of the Government, we would not invest another dollar west of Fort William."

LOCAL BUYING

Industrial Bureau Organizes Exhibition of "Made-in-Winnipeg" Products

There is an old saying that "self-help is the best form of philanthropy." The Winnipeg Industrial Bureau realizes the truth of this and are anxious to have the citizens of Winnipeg, in fact all Canadians, realize it. They know that if every Winnipegger purchased where possible for his household and his business goods made by other Winnipeg citizens that he would be promoting his own business—in other words, helping himself.

In a circular describing the exhibition, in which hundreds of retail store fronts all over Winnipeg were used, some forceful arguments in support of the "Made-in-Winnipeg" idea, were brought out. The following are some examples:—

"It isn't always the skyscraper that makes the city. A factory with a big payroll will do twice as much." "Become impressed with the real true downright duty you owe your city in patronizing home industry. After all is said and done, the full dinner pail is the prospect of a live city."

"Winnipeg knows that the purchase of every $1,000 of goods 'Made-in-Winnipeg' instead of purchasing outside, means the addition of one person to the city instead of support; him elsewhere."

"Winnipeg knows that the way to build up a local industry is to buy its wares. It is a duty citizens owe to the community. Buy the product of home labor, home capital and home industry."

Whether you live in Winnipeg or not you can live up to these maxims. Substitute the name of your own town for Winnipeg. Next time you are sending money out of your town for a purchase that you could make over the counter of your local merchant Stop and Think! Your town can only be successful if its merchants, tradesmen, mechanics and all those who live in it are prosperous. Every dollar spent in your town adds to the prosperity of your fellow-citizens. Not every Western town has manufacturing industries as yet. Some are making a start as industrial centres. Help them to become bigger, and where the article which you wish to purchase is not made in your own town, buy the article made in Western Canada, and if not in Western Canada buy the article made in Canada. Do not send your money out of Canada unless you have to. It is all needed here to build up the country.

EXPANSION IN WEST

Cement Industry Has Finest Plants in the World in Prairie Provinces

In a recent interview, which appeared in the "Journal of Commerce," of Montreal, Mr. F. P. Jones, General Manager of the Canada Cement Company, explained the policy of his company in locating mills in the West as follows:

Build up Home Market

"We wish to eliminate cross-freights and unnecessary expenses of production. Our mills at Winnipeg, Calgary, and Medicine Hat will be among the finest in the world. We want to place the product near the consumer. And, finally, and perhaps in an indirect way, we want to show the Westerners that their best interests are along with Easterners, in building up home industries for the development of Canada."

"Do not misunderstand me. Not every kind of industry can have a natural growth in the West. But we believe there is a great future for the cement trade in the prairie provinces, and we want to associate the people, so far as we can with the industry."

Satisfied With Protection

"Are you satisfied, Mr. Jones, with the present degree of protection—ten cents per hundred pounds?"

"Perfectly satisfied," was the answer. "This moderate duty permits us to meet foreign competition with some hope of ultimate success. Indeed, we are at present more than holding our own. Increased trade is bound to follow this good roads program. The United States used last year five and one-half million barrels of cement on country roads alone; and this aspect of the trade is capable of very great development in Canada also."

In this connection it is a noteworthy fact that the price of cement in Duluth last year was some 5 per cent. per barrel higher than in Fort William, and corresponding differences would be in evidence at various points in Western Canada and United States.

DRESSING A HORSE

How to Please the Animal, Yourself and the Observer

The harness of a horse constitutes its working dress. Its working clothes need not be elaborate and showy, but they should be sensible and good, sanitary and comfortable. A good horse always looks well either with or without good harness, but a poor horse is greatly improved in appearance with a new set of good harness. Good, clean harness not only makes the horse appear better, but the horse will be more comfortable and do more work in them and do it better. The farmer who takes pride in general farm improvements should still take more pride in driving a well dressed team. Money cannot be spent for a much better purpose, and the time in keeping the harness clean and bright is time well spent.

The most important part of the horse's harness is the collar. It should fit the shoulders and neck snugly, not too tight or too loose, and be made of a firm but elastic material, so that by use it will gradually adjust itself to the parts upon which it presses. Never let the horse wear another's collar, as no two horses have exactly the same shaped shoulders and neck. If the breaking in of a new collar to a horse is like breaking in a new pair of shoes to a man, it should have human sympathy when it is given a new collar.

The bridle is perhaps the next most important part of the harness. The bit should be strong and safe, but never so large, rough or otherwise severe as to cause the horse pain or inconvenience. The smooth bit is generally the best if the horse is gentle and easy to manage. Blinds are an injury to the horse and an unnecessary part of the bridle. The bridle, as a whole should be as light and simple in construction as possible.

The woman whom every other woman likes is one whom no man will ever like.

Adam was the only man in the world who never gave his wife cause for jealousy.

Photographic Invention

Of European invention is a device which enables a reel of magnesium ribbon to be burned any length of time its intense light may be desired by a photographer to make a timed exposure.

It cost a railroad company $30,000 to remodel a new station in a California city when it was found that every whisper in a large waiting room could be heard in every other part of the room.

Germans Take Brussels

Retiring on Strong Position at Antwerp
--French Successes in Alsace Brilliant--Germans in Retreat Leave Guns.

London, Aug. 21.—The Germans have taken Brussels, the capital of Belgium, already rich in war's history. It was here that the Duke of Wellington danced at night and sallied forth in the morning to meet his army at Quatre Bras for the battle of Waterloo. Once strongly fortified, the capital for years had been without armament with which to resist attack. The German army, it was reported last night, was pressing its advantage in Brussels by throwing large numbers of troops into the city, while the Belgians were retreating unmolested on Antwerp, to which city the seat of government was moved a few days ago. The official announcement of the German victory at Brussels did not mention the casualties on either side.

King Albert arrived in Antwerp, this morning.

The first German troops to enter Brussels, according to information received here, were three regiments of Uhlans. By order of the burgrave-master no resistance was offered. The last Belgian troops were withdrawn several hours before the advance troops of the German army appeared.

German cavalry is said to have established headquarters in the historic Hotel De Ville, the magnificent structure in which Charles V. abdicated in 1555. The infantry is said to be closely following them, but large forces are operating in the direction of Antwerp. They are reported to have occupied Mechlin, only 15 miles from Antwerp and Aerschot.

OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT.

Paris, Aug. 21.—The German cavalry have occupied Brussels. This official announcement was made Thursday night. Strong columns are following up this movement. The Belgian army is retiring on Antwerp without having been engaged by the Germans.

Above with the announcement of the fall of Brussels, the official statement says:

"Our troops have met with brilliant successes in Alsace, especially between Mulhausen and Altkirch. The Germans, retreating on the Rhine, left in our hands many prisoners and 24 guns, 6 of which were captured after a sharp struggle by our infantry.

"In Lorraine, the day was less fortunate for us. Our advanced troops were forced by a counter attack to fall back in a body, which is strongly established on the Sambre, and along the canal from the Marne to the Rhine.

BELGIANS FULFILLED DUTY.

The official statement continues: "In conformity with a pre-arranged plan, the Belgian field army retired after brilliantly fulfilling their duty as dictated by the strategic situation and delaying for a fortnight the German passage on the Meuse."

"Antwerp has a double role. It is a formidable entrenched camp, fortified on most modern lines and is the base from which the Belgian army can threaten the German flank and co-operate effectively with the allies."

"The Antwerp defences consist of three fortifications, whose power of resistance is great. To besiege the fortresses the Germans would have to bring up tremendous forces and a large siege train. This they are not likely to do. If they don't, they will be obliged to cover themselves against the operations of the Belgian army, which is intact, and to the skillful retreat and augmented by the Antwerp garrison. It is to be added that the Liege forts still hold out."

Those at Namur have not yet been attacked. From this it would seem that advancing German armies are caught between the positions of Namur and Antwerp, a distance from each other of only 65 miles as the crow flies.

"The Belgian army, which is intact, they lack the chief postulate of a plan of March through Belgium, namely, free passage of the Meuse, a route by which and Namur and inaction on the part of the Belgian army."

BURNING VILLAGES

MARK ADVANCE.
London, Aug. 21.—A dispatch to the London Times from Brussels says that one long line of burning villages marked the German advance.

Opinion of American Papers on the War

In speaking of "German audacity," the Springfield Republican points out that in violating the neutrality of Belgium and Luxembourg Emperor William is doing "what Bismarck did not dare to do in 1870," and goes on to say that if it is true, as charged by the French, that the German Emperor forced Austria to fight when she was willing to submit her differences with Serbia to an international conference, it is "more villainous than anything that has occurred in international relations since the time of Frederick the Great."

The St. Louis Republic likewise blames Germany, but is careful to point out that it is the German Government, not the mass of the people, who want war. "No two things could be further apart than the spirit of the German War Office and the spirit of Germany," says the Republic, and adds: "The cure for war is democracy--the consent of the governed."

"It is all the fruit of a false national ambition and of imperialism and specie, privilege fighting against Christian internationalism," in the opinion of the Lewiston (Maine) Journal; while the Philadelphia Public Ledger believes that "the ultimate issue, stripped of all the subordinate but vital hopes involved, is commerce."

The Louisville Courier-Journal also thinks the war is due to "big business" at its worst as an example of criminal brutality, lawless selfishness, and an utter lack of consideration for the gull's fools who the tools of war pursue, whose blood the many to enrich the few."

The New York Sun is not so optimistic in deciding where the fault lies for the carnage that is expected abroad. "What philosopher historian," asks the Sun, "in reviewing events that are blinding in their contemporary aspect, will ever be able to apportion justly the responsibility between the personal and dynastic war impulse in high places of power and the underlying and immeasurable forces of race hatred and national greed?"

The American press seems not disposed to prophesy as to the outcome, so far as immediate and palpable success of arms is concerned. Those that do prophesy are pretty well agreed with the Philadelphia Public Ledger that "it seems as if Germany had undertaken too titan a task."

The Ledger's reason for this view, too--the "security of provisions" which Germany will feel in a long war--is the usual reason given. The Portland Oregonian is inclined to discount Austria's ferocity, saying: "Her victories in war have usually been due either to powerful allies, or to the insignificance of her enemy." The Boston Transcript and the Hartford Courant believe that the British fleet is likely to be a determining factor, and the Wall Street Journal remarks that "there is one awkward little fact of which the Continental strategists, and some of our own, prepared to divide up the British Empire, conveniently forget. It is that the British navy is always on a war footing." This paper, too, is more sanguine of the possibilities of the British army than most critics, and says that "Great Britain possesses what no other country does, 300,000 men, still of fighting age, who have had the invaluable experience of being shot over."

There seems to be a widespread feeling in America that Germany, which is supposed to blossom in the States, and the republican form of government, which is well exemplified by the United States, will certainly gain by the European struggle. The feeling is that absolutism and the "divine right" fetish are in for a big setback.

Kitchener Speaks Plainly To Men of Overseas Force

London, Aug. 18.—Field Marshal Earl Kitchener's soldierly homely to the men of the British expeditionary force, in which he directed that every soldier should keep in his active service paybook, was textually as follows:

"You are ordered abroad as a soldier of the King to help your comrades against the invasion of a common enemy."

"You have to perform a task which will need your courage, your energy and your patience. Remember that the honor of the British army depends on your individual conduct."

"It will be your duty, not only to set an example of discipline and perfect steadiness under fire, but also to maintain the most friendly relations with those with whom you are helping in this struggle."

"The operations in which you will be engaged will for the most part take place in a friendly country, and you can do your own country better service than showing yourself in France and Belgium the character of a British soldier by being invariably courteous, considerate and kind."

"Never do anything likely to injure or destroy property, and also look upon rioting as a disgraceful act."

"You are sure to meet with a welcome and to be trusted. Your conduct must, therefore, justify that confidence and that trust."

"Your duty cannot be done unless your health is sound, so keep constantly on your guard against any excesses."

"In this new experience you must find temptation both in wine and women. You must entirely resist both temptations, and while treating all women with perfect courtesy, you should avoid any intimacy."

"Do your duty bravely. Fear God and honor the King."

(Signed) KITCHENER, Field Marshal.

Mexican War Ended

Mexico City.—Peace seems assured in Mexico at last. A formal pact between the Constitutional army and the Federal government was signed by General Obregon, representing the Constitutionalists and Huerta, governor of the federal district. The document forms the basis under which the Constitutionalists will enter the capital.

The life and property of the citizens of the capital are guaranteed, and an absolutely peaceful occupation is promised. General Velasco, the former minister of war, now leading the federal forces, issued a proclamation to the nation, saying the army would be dissolved. Patriotic duty, he said, required this action necessary, as further fighting undoubtedly would bring on American intervention.

Feed Short in South

The Department of Agriculture, through the office of the Live Stock Commissioner, has recognized the urgent necessity of assisting the southern stock grower to procure winter feed.

Late reports confirm the statement that the grass and hay crop is almost a total failure, and that the north will be called upon to supply pasture and winter feed for numbers of southern cattle. Owners are invited for the address of parties desirous of purchasing, or feeding stock through the winter, and letters of inquiry addressed to the Live Stock Commissioner, Edmonton, from parties in a position to buy or feed will be promptly dealt with.

Police Court News

The police were very busy during Fair week, and it is to the credit of Chief Anderson and his men that matters went along so quietly. There were several attempts at burglary.

The premises of W. B. Lord were broken into, the thieves getting away with one lone dollar. Mr. Young's house on First Street, South was also robbed, and in this case they got away with a gold pocket and watch. A third case was stealing from the C.P.R. the outfit being arrested and remanded until today. During the week the Chief caused four suspicious characters to be arrested, and had them sent out of town. In addition the following were charged and convicted:

Roy McClary, theft of tent, $14.25 on 14 days.

Duncan Davison, vagrancy, $6.50.

Duncan McGinley, vagrancy, $6.50.

Fred Bommen, theft. Remanded.

Geo. Briggs, vagrancy; W. Cook, vagrancy; G. Smith, drunk; W. Hunter, vagrancy; W. Jolson, drunk; Z. Sunfield, vagrancy; W. Green, vagrancy; Mary Williams, disorderly conduct; Nelly Williams, disorderly conduct; John Lovvath, disorderly conduct; W. Brown, vagrancy; David Fludy, drunk; Greenfield, disorderly conduct; Nelly Nelson, disorderly conduct.

Baseball

The Red Deer baseball team had a visit from the Rocky Mountain House team, on Thursday, during the Fair, and a good game was the result, though the visitors were a little outclassed. It was part of this same team that have been so eager to play Red Deer, according to Mr. McGill, though really none of the Red Deer team knew it. In fact, this Mr. McGill himself played first base, and made a very good catch, which probably gave Red Deer their first run.

Smith was stingy with his hits, only allowing two during the game. For the first three innings there was not a hit tallied against him, though one or two got on bases through errors.

The last inn was the only one in which the visitors looked dangerous. One man hit, and a single got two on bases, but Smith fanned the next two up.

The Red Deer team were changed a little, as Reynolds played third and G. Edgington first, with Bonnet in the field. Don Chadsey got everything but a run away in five style and Guy played a great game at first.

Red Deer were not very strong at the bat either, only getting five or six hits, all of the infield variety. Braton was probably the best, bringing in two men with a double. Hamley and Bonnet were also good. Saunders pitched a very slow ball, which always does seem to get the goats of the Red Deer boys.

Also the boys look desperate change of bases and lost by it two or three times. The final score was 4-0 in favor of Red Deer.

Score by innings:
Red Deer 0 0 0 2 1 0 0 x-4
R. M. H. 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0-0

The "Altas," the team which won the championship of Edmonton in baseball this season, are taking a trip through Central Alberta playing the teams of various towns. They broke even with Stettler on Saturday, and on Monday night played Red Deer. They got away to a good start in the first inning by scoring 5 runs. After that the battle was very even, with Red Deer doing the majority of the hitting.

However, they could not catch the Altas, and the game ended 8-4 for the visitors.

The Altas are a nicely balanced team. The two pitchers, one of whom was no better than Clare Smith, the local pitcher, but the infield worked snappier. Red Deer seemed a little rusty at times. The crowd that turned out was so small that the boys went in the hole financially. The Altas play a double-header here Wednesday at 3.00 and 6.00 p.m., and it is hoped that a better crowd will turn out.

Scandinavian Editors Visit City of Red Deer

About forty Scandinavian editors of the U.S.A. visited Red Deer on Tuesday, August 18th. They are touring the Dominion, and arrived by special train from Edmonton at 4 p.m., being met by R. B. Welliver, President of the Board of Trade, Mayor Carscallen, E. Mismar, M.P., Geo. W. Green, John McClelland, and others. The Fair being on, it was a time of activity, but enough cars were rustled up to take the members of the party to the Fair grounds and rides into the night. In the evening as many prominent citizens as could get away were invited to take dinner with the party in their special car, when they expressed the opinion that they had seen nothing to beat the Red Deer district for dairying, and that they were very favorably impressed with it.

The party are the guests of the Dominion Government, and are accompanied by Mr. White of the Department of the Interior. The result of the visit to this country will be a large influx of Scandinavians to the various provinces, notably the north-west.
